Event Rules:

You will get latest copy of the rules and clarifications at <http://wayneoaklandso.weebly.com/2018-events.html>

Event Rules/Clarifications:

Have students and event coaches read event rules again and verify they have all materials needed for their event, including #2 pencils, and that materials meet specifications. Have them note impound times as well as when they need to pick up materials that are left at events. Have your team review the Clarifications on the website

<http://wayneoaklandso.weebly.com/2018-events.html> . Many clarifications have been posted since district tournaments. Clarifications, as well as the rules, will be used in deciding appeals.

Appeals:

Appeals may only be filed by the team's head coach. Before filing, have the people involved calm down and explain their position, read the event rules, and determine if the complaint warrants an appeal. If so, fill out the Appeal Form and bring it to Headquarters. Do not contact the supervisor. Tournament arbitrators will handle the appeal. They will discuss the appeal with you and possibly request to talk to the team members involved. They will contact the supervisor and then notify you of the decision. Rule clarifications in WOSO forums will be considered as official rules during appeal process.

Volunteers:

We need help. A signup genius website link was sent to head coaches to signup for volunteers. All volunteers must report to Headquarters 15-30 mins prior to your assignment or you may report directly to the supervisor/event room.

Supervision of Students:

Approximately 2000-3000 people will be attending this year's tournament. Add that to the excitement and length of the day and it becomes overwhelming for an adult let alone a child. Please encourage your team and guests to relax, pace themselves, participate in the Open Events and demonstrations at the end of the day. Remember the college has graciously provided its buildings and personnel for this tournament. Let's please show them respect. At all times, coaches are responsible for the supervision of their teams and individuals associated with the team. There have been problems with students damaging college property and climbing the outside walls of buildings and trees. Security volunteers will be posted in problem areas this year. Please discuss this problem with your team. Any fines assessed to Wayne Oakland Science Olympiad because of vandalism will be passed on to those individuals involved.
